

	In the Judge's Court	In the Barrister's Court	In the Judge's Chamber
10:15 - 11:15	PRESENTING POIROT  Sophie Hannah &amp; Dr Mark Aldridge  Internationally bestselling author of the New Hercule Poirot mysteries Sophie Hannah explores Agatha Christie's enduring appeal with Agatha Christie expert Dr Mark Aldridge.	OUT OF THIN AIR  Anthony Adeane &amp; Yrsa Sigurdadottir  In the first full account of the case, journalist and author Anthony Adeane explores the sensational true crime that gripped Iceland for five decades with the Queen of Icelandic crime fiction, Yrsa Sigurdadottir.	SEX CRIME: WRITING SEX IN THE #METOO AGE  MJ Arlidge, Erin Kelly &amp; LS Hilton  Has writing sex and sex crime changed since #MeToo? Where to draw the line between sex and sex crimes? Three bestselling crime writers, MJ Arlidge, Erin Kelly and LS Hilton, thrash out the issues with crime writer Mel McGrath in the chair.
11:30 - 12:30	MAD OR BAD? INSIDE THE MINDS OF PSYCHOPATHS  Jennifer Rees  Using real life examples, forensic psychology lecturer and psychotherapist Jennifer Rees takes us on a tour of the latest theories on what makes a psychopath and what we should be doing about psychopathic killers.	WOMEN ON THE FRONT LINE  Alice Vinten, Lisa Cutts &amp; Caroline Mitchell  Three police officers-turned-writers who twist tales from the mean streets into literary feats. Chaired by crime writer Jane Casey.	DIGGING FOR DEATH: FORENSIC ARCHEOLOGY  Elly Griffiths &amp; Linzi Harvey  Bestselling author Elly Griffiths in conversation with Linzi Harvey, osteoarchaeologist at the Natural History Museum and advisor on the acclaimed Ruth Galloway series.
12:30 - 14:00	LUNCH
14:00 - 15:00	TRIAL AND ERROR: IS OUR CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM BROKEN?  The Secret Barrister &amp; Sarah Vaughan  Does the law deliver justice? Internationally bestselling authors The Secret Barrister (via remote access) and Sarah Vaughan debate the issues. Chaired by former BBC crime correspondent and author Colette McBeth.	A MAP FOR MURDER: GEOGRAPHICAL PROFILING  Dr Spencer Chainey  Using real-life murder cases, Dr Spencer Chainey, head of the Jill Dando Institute of Security and Crime Science at University College, London, will share his insights into the art and science of geographical profiling.	I SPY: ESPIONAGE AND SURVEILLANCE IN THE INTERNET AGE  Mick Herron, Asia Mackay &amp; Khurram Rahman  Three writers at the top of their game share some of the secrets of surveillance. Mick Herron, Asia Mackay and Khurram Rahman let us in on the tricks of the trade. Chaired by crime writer Sharon Bolton.
15:15 - 16:15	THE SCENE OF THE CRIME AN INTERACTIVE MURDER MYSTERY  Kate Bendelow, Neil White &amp; Graham Bartlett  Do you have what it takes to examine the evidence and catch a killer? Using a staged crime scene serving crime scene investigator, Kate Bendelow, former Chief Superintendent Graham Bartlett and leading criminal lawyer Neil White take you all the way from 999 to whodunit.	MYSTERY EVENT: TO BE ANNOUNCED!	MY FAMILY AND OTHER CRIMINALS  Sabine Durrant, Alex Marwood &amp; Louise Voss  Crimes close to home expertly unpicked by Sabine Durrant, Alex Marwood and Louise Voss. Chaired by the writer who coined the term domestic noir, Julia Crouch.
16:30 - 17:30	MARK BILLINGHAM IN CONVERSATION  Mark Billingham &amp; Laura Wilson  International bestseller Mark Billingham in conversation with crime writer and The Guardian's crime reviewer Laura Wilson.	FRESH BLOOD  Rachel Edwards, Alex Reeve, Lynne Truss &amp; CJ Tudor  Take a front row seat as four debut crime writers spill their secrets. Rachel Edwards, Alex Reeve, CJ Tudor and Lynne Truss tell all to crime writer Sarah Hilary.	CAPITAL CRIMES  MJ Carter, Chris Fowler &amp; Dreda Say Mitchell  London has always provided rich pickings for crime writers. Discover why acclaimed crime writers MJ Carter, Chris Fowler and Dreda Say Mitchell choose to set their crime fiction in the capital. Chaired by Alison Joseph.
18:30	Drinks Reception		